

ORIGIN OF SONGS AND HYMNS

Interesting Talk by Louis G. Elson, the Musical Editor.

HIS AUDIENCE ENJOYS THE TREAT

Old Hundred Comes Over with the Pilgrim Fathers and Yankee Doodle Develops Through Process of Plagiarism.

Perhaps the most interesting talk of the musical congress, which adjourned early in the evening, was that of Louis G. Elson, the musical editor of the Boston Advertiser, on the subject of "Our National Music." Mr. Elson spoke in an easy, conversational style and demonstrated clearly by playing many an ancestral air of this and other countries on the piano as he went along.

Most men are cradled into poetry by wrong.

From the initial effort of Rousset de Lile Mr. Elson traced the evolution of the "Marseilles" up to the attack on the Tuilleries and eventually the guillotining of the twenty-two Girondins. Because his music had "killed 50,000 of his countrymen," a German would not share his fate.

Origin of Yankee Doodle.

"It must not be thought, said Mr. Elson, that 'Yankee Doodle' is an originally American song. It, like many others, developed through a process of plagiarism. There was an old English dancing tune of the time of the sixteenth century (which Mr. Elson played) so similar that it would not be at all too discerning ear. That was 'Lucy Locket Lost Her Pocket,' sung in the days of Charles II and said to have been sung in derision of Oliver Cromwell. Its next stage was when Dr. Schuckburg, a surgeon of Abercrombie's army in the colonial war between England and France composed the 'Macaroni' phase of it. 'Macaroni' was an English derisive term for the French. This was in 1755. Then the British in time learned to sing:

PUSH INDIAN ENCAMPMENT

Captain Mercer Receives Orders to Go Right Ahead.

ALL THE TRIBES WILL BE REPRESENTED

Great American Indian Will Be Shown as He Was in the Past and as He is at the Present Time.

The preparations for the coming Indian encampment at the exposition are being pushed by Captain W. A. Mercer and the prospects are that this will be one of the most attractive permanent features of the exposition. Congress has made the necessary appropriation of $40,000 and yesterday Manager E. Rosewater of the Department of Publicity and Promotion received a telegram from Secretary of the Interior Cornelius N. Bliss informing him that Captain Mercer had all the necessary instructions to go right ahead.

Not Great Feasts to Be Represented.

Not only is there to be a permanent assembly of the Indian tribes, but at the great feasts, like the sun dance of the Sioux, the great feast of the Cheyennes, Navajos and Apaches from Arizona and New Mexico, Diggers and Molaves from California, Umatillas from Oregon and representatives from Indian Territory and Oklahoma of Creeks, Chickasaws, Choctaws, Chickasaws, Osages, Ojoes, Tonkawas, Kiowas, Comanches, Poncas, Iowas, Quapaws, Delawares, Kaws and other tribes and remnants of tribes, all congregated in their wigwaps, tents, tepees, wigwags and cabins pursuing their usual avocations and illustrating their dances, religious rites and savage customs.

Delegates from All Tribes.

Delegates from every tribe in the union will be on the grounds at one time or another during the exposition. Each type will be exhibited in appropriate costume with weapons, utensils, industrial appliances, ceremonial objects, burial structures and handiwork. Their games, their solemn dances, their peculiar customs and their natural surroundings will be reproduced in connection with these illustrations of savage life, of aboriginal habits and customs and the paraphernalia of the plains, mountain lakes and forests, their homes, exhibits of their industrial advancement, their school work and other incidents of their slow but sure movement toward civilization and enlightenment will be prominent.

NEW MAP OF DOUGLAS COUNTY.

The railroads leading eastward and southward out of Omaha were asked for bids for the transportation of the Third Nebraska regiment of volunteers infantry from Omaha to Jacksonville on Monday morning. The request for bids sent out from the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri, U. S. A., it is specified that the bids shall be delivered at army headquarters on Wednesday morning. This is taken by the railroad men to indicate that Colonel Bryan's regiment will be moved at an early date. It is probable that the transportation will be divided among several lines in order that the troops may be sent to the front in an expeditious manner as possible.

WESTERN SHOOT TO BE REUNITED

Visits of Their Officials to Headquarters Here Have More Than Ordinary Significance at the Present Juncture.

Speculation concerning the absorption of the lines of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company by the Union Pacific was revived in local railway circles when A. L. Mohler, president and general manager of the former company, arrived here for a conference with Horace G. Burt, president of the Union Pacific system. The two presidents spent some time together during the morning, but nothing was announced as a result of the conference.
